

Rontra Freight

Earlier this year, the Normandy Park Police Department was able to replace all of its office furniture for free. In order to get all of this furniture to the police department, we had to rely on the help of a local freight company. Rontra Freight was willing to provide us with a large shipping truck to move some of the furniture from downtown Seattle. We also were not able to install some of the furniture immediately, and had to store it until we had the available space to move it in. Rontra Freight was nice enough to provide us with space at their storage facility off of Pacific Hwy S. in Seatac until we could move it in. The Normandy Park Police Department and the City of Normandy Park would like to extend a great thanks to the people of Rontra Freight for all the help they provided the City of Normandy Park. In a time of financial constraint it was nice to have a company step up and provide this service without charge to the City.

Pictured front to back: Maintenance Worker Jeremy McGinnis, Interim Police Chief Chris Gaddis, Detective Dan Will, Community Service Officer David Bond.

